

PTSG protects front and back of Frontenac Estate

4 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) is delivering specialist electrical services at new homes that are being added to a residential estate in Willesden.

The Frontenac Estate in North-West London has seen the erection of a four-storey residential building comprising four flats (3 x 3 bed and 1 x one-bed flats) with associated car parking spaces, cycle storage, refuse storage, amenity space, provision of a drying area and landscaping (new block to be built at north-west drying area of the Frontenac Estate).

This keeps to the mixture of flats and houses in line with Willesden Municipal Borough Council's current housing commitments. It is located close to the newly refurbished Willesden Sports Centre.

Engineers from PTSG Electrical Services Ltd will install a bespoke lightning protection system at the new development. This will provide protection for the buildings and all users in the event of an electrical storm.

PTSG is the UK's leading provider of lightning protection services. As well as designing and installing new systems, the Group's engineers also provide periodic testing and inspection, which is required by law, and carry out repairs, maintenance and upgrades.

Photo credit: Shutterstock