

PTSG delivers a drop of expertise in Hackney

3 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) is to deliver specialist water hygiene services for Hackney Learning Trust.

Hackney Learning Trust is a department of the London Borough of Hackney with a greater level of delegation than other council departments, modelling a new way of working for the delivery of public services that is both customer focused and democratically achieved.

The transformation of education in London is perhaps one of the greatest successes of public policy of the last two decades, and nowhere has that success been more remarkable than in Hackney, where the education offer has gone from being one of the worst to becoming one of the best – not just in London, but in the UK.

PTSG Water Treatment Ltd was successful in winning a tender for the contract to supply water hygiene regime tasks in ten schools within the Hackney Learning Trust.

Water hygiene encompasses the implementation and monitoring of written control schemes after a risk assessment as well as the upgrade or improvement of water system. PTSG assists not only in providing tried and tested methods of monitoring, cleaning, disinfection and refurbishment of water systems, but also in designing innovative engineered control measures to comply with relevant legal requirements.
