

Norse Group receives RoSPA Silver Award

3 years ago

Norse Group Limited is celebrating after landing an internationally-recognised award for demonstrating high health and safety standards.

Norse Group Limited has received a RoSPA Silver Health and Safety Award for working hard to ensure its staff get home safely to their families at the end of every working day. Roger Smith Director of Safety, Health, Environment and Quality (SHEQ) will be collecting the award in London on the 17th May 2022 on behalf of the Group.

Organisations receiving a RoSPA Award are recognised as being world-leaders in health and safety practice. Every year, nearly 2,000 entrants vie to achieve the highest possible accolade in what is the UK's longest-running H&S industry awards.

Roger Smith, Director of Safety, Health, Environment and Quality (SHEQ) said: "This consecutive Silver award demonstrates the continued and sustained cultural approach to behavioural based safety that the SHEQ Department has strived to influence across Norse Group. The example set by Operational Directors is to be celebrated and has truly influenced the reduction in serious incidents and accidents and developed a culture of learning shared across the Group."

With a well establish Health and Safety Committee the Group can engage and maintain a safe place of work for all.

Julia Small, RoSPA's Achievements Director, said: "This is a fantastic and well-deserved accomplishment. All our award entrants demonstrate their unwavering commitment and passion for keeping people safe at work. By receiving this recognition Norse Group Limited join like-minded businesses and organisations worldwide, who represent the very best in their approach to Health and Safety. I would like to add my personal thanks for all the work that it has taken to secure this well-deserved award - congratulations to all those involved, who champion and drive up Health and Safety standards every day. You are a fantastic example to others in your sector.”
