

Atalian Servest acquires Incentive FM

4 years ago

Global FM service provider Atalian Servest has acquired Incentive FM Group, a dynamic independently owned business, specialising in FM, technical services (M&E), cleaning, security, front of house, consultancy, landscaping and waste management.

The acquisition, the first in the UK since the merger with Atalian Global Services in 2018, is a strategic move to expand the FM firm's core service offering, reinforcing sectors of focus, and adding further scale and experience.

Founded in 2002, Incentive FM Group has built an enviable reputation in FM service excellence and boasts an impressive client portfolio, with many long-standing and legacy relationships. The transaction will also allow Atalian Servest to offer specialist consultancy and project management services to its customers, further complementing its existing range of self-delivered services.

Martin Reed, CEO of Incentive FM Group, along with the executive management and operational teams, will remain in the business to ensure continuity of service excellence and pre-existing relationships.

Daniel Dickson, CEO Atalian Servest UK & Ireland, commented: "The acquisition is part of our ambition to accelerate our growth trajectory within the UK & Ireland. We are looking forward to driving value and building strategic partnerships with Incentive FM's clients, while offering a wider range of services to our existing client portfolio."

Martin Reed, CEO Incentive FM Group, added: "We are looking forward to joining the Atalian Servest team and build on Incentive FM Group's success of the last 20 years. Our vision has always been to have a workforce and clients who love working with us, and I know they are all in safe hands as we look to further develop our relationships with them."
