JLL appoints Sue Asprey Price as CEO of its Work Dynamics business in EMEA

3 years ago

JLL has announced the appointment of Sue Asprey Price as the new CEO for Work Dynamics across Europe, Middle East and Africa. She succeeds Mark Caskey, who will leave the company in mid-June.

Based in London, Sue joined JLL in 2017 as the Head of Work Dynamics in the UK and Ireland. Prior to that, she held senior roles at large real estate companies including CBRE. She holds more than 20 years of experience and is known for her exceptional client service and strong leadership.

In her new and expanded role, Sue's focus is to deliver exceptional client service and drive growth across the region. She will play a pivotal role in leading the shape and delivery of JLL's end-to-end integrated corporate occupier solutions across the region.

Neil Murray, CEO, Work Dynamics, JLL, said: "Sue is a tremendous addition to our global leadership team. Her subject matter expertise and commitment to superior client service will help us build on the growing market opportunities in the EMEA region. During her time at JLL, she has earned the trust of her colleagues and clients, and we are confident about the continued success of our business as we remain laser-focused on building a better world of work."

Sue Asprey Price, Head of Work Dynamics, EMEA, JLL, added: "I am excited to take on this new role and I look forward to continuing to help our clients navigate the changing world of work. With our robust technology and sustainability driven strategy, we are equipped to help our clients succeed in creating unique and exciting workplace experiences that help foster collaboration, innovation and culture."

Commenting on Mark Caskey's departure, Murray, said: "We are grateful to Mark for his contribution to the business, our people and clients over the last six years. His thoughtful leadership was instrumental throughout the transformation of our business, especially during the global pandemic. We wish him every success in his future endeavours."