

SPACE FM team highly commended at NEC Awards

3 years ago

SPACE FM Consultancy Services was highly commended at last week's NEC Awards, after entering Building/Facilities Management Contract of the Year.

The Space FM team were recognised for their work with Queen Margaret University's Estates Management department on the implementation of NEC4 (TSC) FM contract to provide an integrated facilities support provision. By establishing the NEC4 procedure, Space FM has equipped Queen Margaret University with expertise in procurement, negotiations, implementation and contract management.

The project was led by contract management and business specialist at Space FM, Miguel Montenegro, who holds full accreditation as an NEC4 TSC Service Manager.

Speaking on the award, Miguel comments: "We are thrilled to be highly commended at this year's Building/Facilities Management Contract of the Year at the NEC Awards. Our work with Queen Margaret University's Estates Management department required a solid understanding of NEC contracts to maximise the benefits that come from efficient procedural and contractual processes.

"This reflects our profound expertise in contract management, procurement and operational performance that can help to transform a client's business."

The Space FM Consultancy Service offers specialist support, using bespoke software packages, with the procurement and adoption processes of NEC contracts and includes fully trained and qualified practitioners in the implementation and use of NEC3 & 4 Contracts (TSC, TSSC, and FM).
