

New Chief Executive Simon Harris join Avrenim

3 years ago

A new CEO has been appointed at Avrenim – Simon Harris joins the business to help further strengthen the company's position in the market.

Liverpool-based Avrenim Group was set up in 2018 by Simon Mattravers and John Newberry, with an ambition to become the go-to facilities management provider in the North West.

Over the last few years, the company has grown quickly to become a main contractor, competing for work with large international FM and construction providers. The business has continued to go from strength to strength, and now employs over 100 staff at its Liverpool headquarters.

Simon has an extensive career within the industry spanning over thirty years, bringing a breadth of experience from many different business streams in both the public and private sector.

Speaking of his new role at the company, he said: "I am delighted to be joining Avrenim Group as its new CEO – the company has a great reputation and has worked hard to position itself as a trusted advisor within key sectors".

"Avrenim has an exciting future ahead of it, as we focus on our new strategic direction – to support businesses with their net zero journey. I'm excited to lead our company through this new stage of our development, as we work to help organisations meet ambitious sustainability targets and secure a better future for everyone."

Simon will lead the Group and its activities, supporting the needs of customers and helping the business to evolve to market needs.

Find out more information about Avrenim on its website here: <https://avrenim.co.uk/>