

Inviron reveals 'strong growth'

3 years ago

Despite a challenging year in 2021, Inviron has reported a strong set of accounts underpinned by healthy growth across all of its primary sectors.

Inviron is an EDF Group company and supports their drive to help the UK achieve Net Zero Carbon having a proven ability to transform working environments for customers in multiple sectors. These include Corporate Services, Government, Education, Health & Social Care, Energy and Utilities, Life Science & Technology, and Manufacturing & Industrial.

The report includes a market and financial performance update from Noel Clancy (Managing Director) and also shares Inviron's 2021 key highlights. With significant wins in the Education sector, there is a focus on two of their contracts; Imperial College London and Birmingham City University.

Demonstrating Inviron's efforts to be a responsible business, the report outlines various initiatives which support their Net Zero ambitions. It also highlights their commitment to society and the wider communities where they operate.

Using their first Guiding Principle, there is an update on their approach to remaining "Always Safety First". Elsewhere the report shows Inviron's commitment to their people, highlighting the Engineer Career & Development Pathway which was launched in 2021.

Noel Clancy commented "Notwithstanding the ongoing challenges of Covid19, our teams have shown great resilience, agility and tenacity, continuing to provide a safe and quality service to our clients. This is reflected in our client retention statistics and financial results. Our 2021 contract wins have demonstrated our ability to achieve measured growth across all of our targeted sectors and we remain fully on track to achieve our 2026 strategy."

To read the full report click here: <https://inviron.co.uk/flipbook/business-highlights-2021>

Despite a challenging year in 2021, Inviron has reported a strong set of accounts underpinned by healthy growth across all of its primary sectors.

Inviron is an EDF Group company and supports their drive to help the UK achieve Net Zero Carbon having a proven ability to transform working environments for customers in multiple sectors. These include Corporate Services, Government, Education, Health & Social Care, Energy and Utilities, Life Science & Technology, and Manufacturing & Industrial.

The report includes a market and financial performance update from Noel Clancy (Managing Director) and also shares Inviron's 2021 key highlights. With significant wins in the Education sector, there is a focus on two of their contracts; Imperial College London and Birmingham City University.

Demonstrating Inviron's efforts to be a responsible business, the report outlines various initiatives which support their Net Zero ambitions. It also highlights their commitment to society and the wider communities where they operate.

Using their first Guiding Principle, there is an update on their approach to remaining "Always Safety First". Elsewhere the report shows Inviron's commitment to their people, highlighting the Engineer Career & Development Pathway which was launched in 2021.

Noel Clancy commented "Notwithstanding the ongoing challenges of Covid19, our teams have shown great resilience, agility and tenacity, continuing to provide a safe and quality service to our clients. This is reflected in our client retention statistics and financial results. Our 2021 contract wins have demonstrated our ability to achieve measured growth across all of our targeted sectors and we remain fully on track to achieve our 2026 strategy."

To read the full report click here: <https://inviron.co.uk/flipbook/business-highlights-2021>