

Tilbury Douglas appoints new Operations Director – Scotland

3 years ago

Tilbury Douglas, a leading UK building, infrastructure, engineering and fit-out business, has appointed Barry O'Hagan as Operations Director for Scotland.

With 25 years' experience in the construction industry, having managed main contractor and subcontractor firms, Barry will bring with him his wealth of expertise.

Having developed his career in operations, Barry has experience of working throughout the UK in a variety of sectors including residential, education, retail, leisure, transport, commercial, industrial, scientific, sports, nuclear and defence projects.

Commenting on his new position, Barry O'Hagan said: "It's an exciting time to be joining Tilbury Douglas which is currently delivering projects in Scotland for key clients such as North Lanarkshire Council, City of Edinburgh Council, National Galleries of Scotland and Network Rail.

"Tilbury Douglas has some great opportunities ahead continuing its work in some key sectors including life science, heritage, industrial and education. I'm looking forward to getting started and helping the business grow in the Scottish market."
