

Lexington Catering expands its cloud catering service

3 years ago

A leading workplace caterer, Lexington Catering, has extended its cloud catering offer, Lex Unboxed, to reach more workplaces in London.

Lex Unboxed is available to offices in the City and to those within a six mile radius of a dedicated kitchen where all the food is freshly prepared by Lexington's experienced chefs.

Lexington's chefs have created an exceptional menu which is freshly prepared daily, using seasonal, locally sourced ingredients, appealing to all dietary requirements. The food is safely packed in plant based and fully compostable packaging and all items are available individually wrapped or boxed for groups of six or more at just 48 hours' notice.

To support employee wellbeing and productivity, Lexington has developed options which are high in fibre, and include slow-release carbohydrates and foods rich in Omega-3. Customers can choose from breakfast bowls to freshly baked pastries and the lunch and dinner menus include salad and sandwich boxes with a choice of proteins and personalised options and a selection of fruit and desserts. There is also a choice of drinks available which can be delivered with the food and calorie and allergen information is included for all food items.

Matt Wood, Managing Director of Lexington Catering, said: "Lex Unboxed was created for businesses that want to provide employees and guests with a high-quality hospitality offering but do not have the catering facilities to deliver such a service. How and where people work has changed over the past 2 years, and this had led to the need for more flexible catering options. Health and wellbeing has become increasingly important to our customers, as has a demand for an adaptable catering service that meets a variety of tastes and dietary needs.”

“Lex Unboxed provides offices with delicious food, created by talented chefs with extensive experience of providing premium quality food in the workplace, and is easy to order and does not require an on-site kitchen. Due to the initial success of Lex Unboxed, we have now expanded the delivery area so that more workplaces and offices can benefit and have access to this cloud-based solution.”

Businesses located within a six mile radius of the central purpose-built London production kitchen can access the Lex Unboxed delivery service and an introductory 20% discount offer

at: lexeats.dynamify.com/store/lexunboxed

Lexington’s chefs have created an exceptional menu which is freshly prepared daily, using seasonal, locally sourced ingredients, appealing to all dietary requirements. The food is safely packed in plant based and fully compostable packaging and all items are available individually wrapped or boxed for groups of six or more at just 48 hours’ notice.

To support employee wellbeing and productivity, Lexington has developed options which are high in fibre, and include slow-release carbohydrates and foods rich in Omega-3. Customers can choose from breakfast bowls to freshly baked pastries and the lunch and dinner menus include salad and sandwich boxes with a choice of proteins and personalised options and a selection of fruit and desserts. There is also a choice of drinks available which can be delivered with the food and calorie and allergen information is included for all food items.

Matt Wood, Managing Director of Lexington Catering, said: “Lex Unboxed was created for businesses that want to provide employees and guests with a high-quality hospitality offering but do not have the catering facilities to deliver such a service. How and where people work has changed over the past 2 years, and this had led to the need for more flexible catering options. Health and wellbeing has become increasingly important to our customers, as has a demand for an adaptable catering service that meets a variety of tastes and dietary needs.”

“Lex Unboxed provides offices with delicious food, created by talented chefs with extensive experience of providing premium quality food in the workplace, and is easy to order and does not require an on-site kitchen. Due to the initial success of Lex Unboxed, we have now expanded the delivery area so that more workplaces and offices can benefit and have access to this cloud-based solution.”

Businesses located within a six mile radius of the central purpose-built London production kitchen can access the Lex Unboxed delivery service and an introductory 20% discount offer

at: lexeats.dynamify.com/store/lexunboxed