

PTSG completes specialist access works at York House

3 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) has completed a project to provide specialist Access & Safety services at a newly completed residential development in North-West London.

York House, located on Empire Way, Wembley, was originally an office tower block built in the sixties, redecorated in the eighties and recently converted to flats. York House takes its place within the busy and popular Wembley Park.

This project saw engineers from PTSG Access & Safety Ltd replace the original building maintenance unit (BMU) with a new one. A building maintenance unit enables technicians to safely access all parts of the building's façade to carry out cleaning and maintenance work.

The Group's engineers also installed restraint anchors on all elevations to comply with current regulations. The BMU was supplied by FBA Gomyl; the crane supplied by Ainscough; the restraint anchors were drilled by D-Drill.

PTSG Access & Safety Ltd is the original division of PTSG. The Group now operates five independent divisions, the other four being PTSG Electrical Services Ltd, PTSG Building Access Specialists Ltd, PTSG Fire Solutions Ltd and PTSG Water Treatment. Together, they deliver a complete specialist services solution.
