

Stunning new workspace at PTSG's Castleford headquarters

3 years ago

2022 sees Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) celebrating 15 years of trading. Therefore, it is the perfect time to unveil its brand-new contemporary workspace at its Castleford headquarters.

The pictures and video (available on PTSG's social media channels) show how the new office, training and relaxation space is equipped and furnished to a high specification. The layout is designed for the finance team to be on the upper level, with the downstairs available for all.

Boasting a mixture of glass-fronted offices and open-plan workspace, state-of-the-art dining kitchens and inviting break-out areas – including a pool table – everyone can expect a more comfortable and enjoyable experience during their working day.

The PTSG campus on Whistler Drive in Castleford now covers 15,000 square feet and is one of 47 office and depot locations throughout the UK. Group CEO Paul Teasdale said, “To be a great company to do business with, it is vitally important that we are a great place to work. It is an overused cliché sometimes, but our people really are our main asset and it is essential that we look after them – creating opportunities for people to develop careers, not just jobs or tasks to undertake.”

The Group continues to experience year-on-year growth and its skilled and talented people are central to that success. The new workspace is an investment in people and PTSG hopes it contributes to an overall improved working experience.

Please click here for a video tour of the new workspace at Castleford.