Modulaire Group, the parent company of Algeco, Europe's leading modular solutions brand, has announced that it is acquiring Mobile Mini UK Holdings Limited (Mobile Mini UK) from Mobile Mini, Inc.

Acquiring Mobile Mini UK will further strengthen Algeco market leadership and support teamwork between the combined businesses, offering customers more comprehensive site accommodation and storage solutions.

With a national network of 16 locations in the UK, Mobile Mini UK is one of the leading suppliers of steel storage units and anti-vandal portable offices and toilets. It operates a fleet of over 42,000 units for customers across sectors including construction, retail, manufacturing, healthcare, and education.

The product offering is homogenous with the existing Algeco range. Together Algeco and Mobile Mini UK will create the UK's largest accommodation hire fleet with c82,000 units.

The two organisations are closely aligned in their values too. They have shared commitments to market leading health and safety standards, as well as equality, diversion and inclusivity. Ethics play an important role in the way both do business, so customers and stakeholders can trust Algeco and Mobile Mini UK to do the right thing at all times.

Expansion in container solutions, which have seen strong growth in the last two years despite market conditions, will add strength to the Algeco organisation and continue to broaden and improve services to customers, who demand quality available accommodation, delivered quickly.

This acquisition further demonstrates the Algeco commitment to its strategy of building a sustainable
