Commercial cleaning specialist MagicCote has announced a 25% increase in turnover for 2021/2022, as well as securing a range of high-profile new contracts.

Rounding off a successful year, Hull-based MagicCote was recently appointed to provide high-level cleaning for Howden Joinery's nationwide sites. Its technicians will ensure that all Howden factories are cleaned to insurance standards, removing potentially volatile dust.

MagicCote also resumed work for leading food services and facilities management company Sodexo, with which it has a longstanding relationship. Other new contracts include the University of Greenwich, Chivas Brothers, Toyota, MARS, and Diageo.

Closer to home, MagicCote has provided high-level, spillage and reactive cleaning at Reckitt-Benckiser's Hull manufacturing facility. Finally, it retained its contract with Pareto FM, and will continue to provide window cleaning services for the facilities management specialist.

Reflecting on an eventful year, Director Adam Carrison commented: "MagicCote continues to grow, which is reflected in a fantastic 25% increase in turnover in the last financial year. We're delighted to have retained significant contracts and won new work; it's testament to the skill and commitment of our brilliant team. We're looking forward to supporting our customers in 2023."

MagicCote (which underwent a rebrand earlier in the year) offers a range of specialist commercial cleaning services, including industrial, window, office, floor and drain cleaning. The family-owned business continues to invest in its staff, equipment and facility, and is also taking steps to become carbon neutral.
