

New score for Artic as it secures Royal College of Music deal

2 years ago

Artic has been awarded the Mechanical & Electrical maintenance contract at the Royal College of Music in London.

After participating in a restricted tender followed by a presentation to the school's board, Artic were chosen as the successful supplier to maintain these critically important systems.

The Royal College of Music (RCM) is a world-renowned institution, and one of the UK's most prestigious music schools. Situated across the road from the Royal Albert Hall, the Royal College of Music was founded in 1882 and is one of the oldest and most prestigious music schools in the world. The RCM offers undergraduate and postgraduate programs in a wide range of musical disciplines, including classical performance, composition, conducting, and musicology. The college has a strong reputation for the training of classical musicians and has produced many notable alumni, including Sir Elton John, Sir Harrison Birtwistle, and Dame Harriet Walter.

The college is one of the four conservatories of the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music and a member of Conservatoires UK. The college also houses the RCM Museum containing priceless artifacts including instruments and manuscripts dating back to the 15th century.

Artic is providing a regular weekly maintenance call in engineer to conduct PPM to M&E assets across the whole site including the world renowned concert hall, performance theatres and studios as well as academic areas and practice facilities.

Ensuring business continuity and avoiding any impact on business-critical operations is the aim of our commercial facilities management services. Available 24 hours a day, our dedicated on-site engineers provide immediate support for reactive maintenance, as well as planned preventive maintenance of all mechanical, electrical, fire, water, and HVAC systems. As highly experienced professionals, we also offer maintenance of the building fabric, Hard FM and compliance services.