

Partnership with Youth Employment UK results in early careers hub

3 years ago

Sodexo has launched Explore at Sodexo on the Youth Employment UK website to bring to life the variety of opportunities and excellent career pathways available within the organisation.

It provides a designated employer profile accessed through the Youth Employment UK website that showcases early careers at the organisation.

Young people can read and watch inspiring profiles of current apprentices, as well as explore apprenticeship academies, T Level opportunities, and work experience programmes at Sodexo sites throughout the UK.

Youth Employment UK will assist the company in connecting with young people who are looking to work for a youth-friendly employer and discover education and training opportunities.

Youth Employment UK is an independent, not-for-profit social enterprise founded in 2012 to tackle youth unemployment. The enterprise is committed to its principles of Good Youth Employment which focus on creating opportunity, recognising talent, ensuring fair employment, and providing world-class people development. The organisation uses its network to reach 4500 schools, colleges and career leaders, and young people across the country.

Sodexo states it has long been committed to creating employment opportunities and enabling colleagues to thrive through apprenticeships and considers all vacancies and job roles as apprenticeships wherever possible.

It offers a wide variety of apprenticeships, with over 70 available in areas such as IT and business
