

The Glenmorangie Company appoint SecuriGroup

3 years ago

SecuriGroup, in an expansion of its client portfolio, is delighted to announce a new contract with The Glenmorangie Company, home to Glenmorangie Highland Single Malt Scotch Whisky and Ardbeg Islay Single Malt Scotch Whisky, two of the world's most respected whisky brands.

The Glenmorangie Company is one of the prestigious companies owned by Moët Hennessy-Louis Vuitton (LVMH). The company has its global headquarters in central Edinburgh with further offices and a state-of-the-art bottling facility in nearby Livingston, West Lothian.

Working closely with The Glenmorangie Company, SecuriGroup will provide expert security services including corporate guarding, officer deployment and responsive mobile support when required for its site in Livingston.

SecuriGroup National Operations Director, David Wilson commented: "We are delighted to add The Glenmorangie Company to our client portfolio and continue our relationship with Louis Vuitton Moët Hennessy."

Michael Scotland, Facilities and Projects Director said: "We look forward to working with SecuriGroup and capitalising on its expertise to ensure the continued security of our site at Livingston."
