

New operations director's recruitment confirmed

2 years ago

Cleaning service provider Portfolio has announced the appointment of Robert Trewick as operations director.

He is highly experienced in the London cleaning market and bridging the gap between people, process, and technology to support business growth. Trewick, who joined from NG Bailey, also spent 14 months at Broadgate as well as six years at NJC across his career.

His experience includes a recent focus on sustainability and delivering ESG solutions for clients, as well as embedding social value to help clients recognise the impact of assets on local communities.

Mr Trewick said: "I am incredibly excited to join Portfolio and work alongside the passionate and customer focused team. It is fantastic to become part of an organisation that is growing exponentially due to its people, innovative solutions, and excellent service delivery, based on attention to detail and continuous improvement."

Managing director Joe Saisi said: "We are extremely pleased to be welcoming Robert to the senior team here at Portfolio. He is an extremely experienced individual in the cleaning world across different sectors from high end to more simple public sector contracts. He takes pride and care in the people involved in his contracts which sets him apart, he will be a great asset to the Portfolio team."
