2 years ago

Sodexo has been awarded a three-year extension to its catering and FM services contract at the Sullom Voe Terminal in the Shetland Islands.

Sodexo's new three-year contract has an option to extend a further two years and is worth around £2.5 million a year. Sodexo's 25-strong team will continue to provide catering, cleaning, warehouse and logistics, garage services, and pest control for the 400-plus employees on site.

Ed Morrow, Managing Director of Energy & Resources for Sodexo UK & Ireland, said: "We are thrilled that our colleagues will continue to deliver services for this important contract as the Sullom Voe Terminal enters an exciting new phase."

"We thank our client for their continued trust in extending our partnership together and thank our teams who are providing exceptional service and support to workers at the terminal, and we hope to build on what has already been accomplished so far in this partnership."

With integrated services that support employee wellbeing and adapt to changing needs, Sodexo's Energy & Resources business provides a 'home from home' service to many people who work in often remote and complex environments, such as LNG (liquified natural gas) plants and refineries on land or offshore platforms in the North Sea.
