

The Vertas Group Sponsors Disability Provision

2 years ago

The Vertas Group is delighted to announce that it has sponsored the Ipswich Town Foundation disability provision. The Vertas Group is one of Great Britain's largest integrated facilities management companies, which includes property design and specialist recruitment capabilities.

The Vertas Group, which consists of Vertas, Concertus Design & Property Consultants and Opus People Solutions, has its head office in Ipswich and has initially committed their support until the end of the 2023/24 season.

The funding will enable the Foundation to continue to grow and develop its disability provision for adults and children in the local community.

Ian Surtees M.B.A, Vertas Group Chief Executive Officer said, "We truly believe sport is for everybody and are incredibly honoured to be associated with the Ipswich Town Foundation and the fantastic work that they do."

"Within the Vertas Group, we aim to make a difference not only to our own people, customers, and partners but to the wider community too. There are many synergies between our Group and the Ipswich Town Foundation and what we both want to achieve. This is why we are proud to sponsor the team and be a part of the project."

Dan Palfrey, Director of the Foundation added "We are pleased to be able to announce this sponsorship deal with the Vertas Group."

"The Foundation continues to grow and having the Vertas Group's support will allow us to enhance our disability provision offering, enabling us to engage with more children and adults within Ipswich, Suffolk, and the surrounding areas. On behalf of the Foundation, I'd like to thank the Vertas Group for their backing. It will make a genuine difference to the mental and physical well-being of current and future participants."

The Foundation's disability programmes include both football and multi-sport sessions for adults and U18s, which help to ensure that all disabled participants have access to engage in physical activity with support from qualified and experienced coaching staff.

Vertas Group's support and funding will aid the Foundation's aim to make sport accessible and available to everyone.
