

Essex hospital to receive specialist treatment from PTSG

2 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) is to deliver specialist electrical services at Princess Alexandra Hospital in Essex.

The Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust serves a population of 258,000 and provides healthcare services to the communities of Harlow and the surrounding areas. It runs Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow, Essex, which is a 419 bedded District General Hospital providing acute and specialist services to a local population of 258,000 people. volunteers play an integral and valuable role in the daily running of the hospital, supporting staff, patients and their families in a variety of clinical and non-clinical roles.

Engineers from PTSG Electrical Services Ltd will design, supply, install and commission a brand-new lightning protection system for the hospital.

PTSG is the UK's leading provider of lightning protection services. Its engineers are at work throughout the nation, delivering test and inspection, repairs, upgrades and brand-new bespoke or off-the-shelf lightning and surge protection systems. PTSG serves clients in all industry sectors.

Image: Shutterstock