

G4S is first non-police service to achieve abnormal load escorting accreditation

3 years ago

G4S is the first and only UK company and non-police service to gain accreditation to allow specialist security officers to stop and manage traffic as they escort moving Abnormal Indivisible Loads (AILs) on the roads.

G4S, part of Allied Universal®, is a leading security and facility services company that provides proactive security services and cutting-edge smart technology to deliver tailored, integrated security solutions.