

Integral Cradles reaches practical completion at Triptych Bankside

2 years ago

Integral Cradles is pleased to announce that its on-site team has now reached practical completion at 185 Park Street (Triptych Bankside) on the South Bank of London. Integral Cradles worked alongside the client team from Sons and Co, on architects Squire & Partners' mixed-use development.

185 Park Street is a three-building development – hence the name. It boasts workspace in a ten-storey building, and two residential blocks – fifteen and nineteen storeys respectively – along with amenities at ground and lower ground, plus retail and café spaces.

Designs for the residential elements optimise their slender footprints to be adaptive and maximise amenity space and local views. A gently twisting form, combined with undulating curved terraces wrapping around the exterior, affords the buildings a considered sculptural aesthetic.

Integral Cradles completed the first phase of the installation of access equipment at the development back in June 2022.