

PTSG provides specialist cleaning services at Cambridge HQ

2 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd (PTSG) has secured a major window cleaning contract at the Cambridge headquarters of a global research-based pharmaceutical company.

The 19,000m² facility will house advanced robotics, high-throughput screening and AI-driven technology, supporting a focus on specialised and precision medicines and foster the discovery and development of next generation therapeutics, including nucleotide-based, gene-editing and cell therapies. It is situated close to the city's leading hospitals and the University of Cambridge.

PTSG is one of the UK's leading providers of window cleaning services, working with a vast number of companies from all kinds of industry sectors. Its teams are highly skilled in the use of rope access/abseiling techniques, BMU/cradle access, MEWPs and ladder work. This allows PTSG to carry out full cleans at even the most challenging sites.

Safety is always at the heart of every project and operatives always carry out a full risk assessment before commencing any project – all while guaranteeing a spotless finish.
