

Mrs Buckét Wins New Key Account with Dow in Barry, South Wales

2 years ago

Mrs Buckét, the commercial cleaning company focused on changing the face of the cleaning industry, has secured another major account, Dow Silicones. Dow is a leading global producer of silicones and silicone-based technology, serving the diverse needs of customers worldwide.

Swansea-headquartered Mrs Buckét will work with Dow in Barry to improve cleanliness standards and create high-performing working environments. The company's innovative approach to cleaning, and commitment to providing both a proactive and reactive service, will help to ensure that Dow facilities are always maintained to the highest standards.

Rachael Flanagan, CEO and founder of Mrs Buckét, expressed her enthusiasm for the new partnership, saying: "We are thrilled to welcome Dow to the Mrs Buckét family. Our team is dedicated to delivering the best possible job for our customers, and we look forward to working with Dow to ensure their facilities are always clean, safe and welcoming."

Omaima Jennani, Labour and Services Sourcing Specialist, Dow, said: "We are delighted to work with an inclusive and forward-thinking company, who are local with a national outlook and are on a mission to drive change."

Furthermore, Mrs. Bucket has officially been certified as a Diverse Supplier by WeConnect, a leading global network that supports and promotes supplier diversity, specifically supporting majority owned women businesses.

Omaima added: "This remarkable accomplishment is a testament to Mrs. Bucket's unwavering commitment to excellence and Dow Chemical's strong support throughout the certification process. Dow fully supports the drive to gain more Diverse Suppliers into the network to deliver benefits and innovation.”

Mrs Buckét’s commitment to changing the face of the cleaning industry has earned them a reputation as a trusted partner for businesses of all sizes. By using innovative technologies and a proactive approach to customer service, Mrs Buckét helps businesses improve their performance by creating cleaner, more productive environments.

Mrs Buckét is a high-quality commercial cleaning and facilities management company. Established by Rachael Flanagan in 2005, the business has grown to have 360 members of the cleaning team, operating across south Wales and southwest England.