

Pre-construction director appointed by Tilbury Douglas

3 years ago

Building, infrastructure, engineering and fit-out service provider Tilbury Douglas has announced the appointment of Brett Jarman as pre-construction director – infrastructure.

As a chartered civil engineer with extensive experience in highways, water and other civil engineering works, he has worked at senior management level for medium and large civil engineering companies including Morgan Sindall, Sisk, Jackson and Roadbridge.

Managing director Paul Thain said: “We welcome Brett to the business and look forward to benefiting from his extensive experience in the infrastructure industry. We’ll look to utilising that experience to support and enhance our plan for sustainable growth.”