

PTSG enrolls at University of Westminster

2 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) is to deliver specialist electrical services for the London University which became the capital's first polytechnic in 1838.

The University of Westminster is a public university based that began as one of the first polytechnics in the UK 185 years ago. It formally received a Royal charter in August 1839, and became the University of Westminster in 1992.

It supports more than 19,000 students from all over the world on its undergraduate, postgraduate and professional courses. The university has four campuses across London and a range of impressive venues including its very own cinema, gallery spaces and sports facilities.

In this contract, engineers from PTSG Electrical Services Ltd will deliver a brand-new lightning protection system to protect buildings and users at the campus of the University of Westminster.

PTSG is the UK's leading provider of lightning protection services. It is also believed to be the oldest trading provider of lightning protection services, with constituent company JW Gray founded in 1835.
