

Winthrop Technologies awards Dublin contract

2 years ago

FM integrated service provider ABM has secured a contract with data centre specialist Winthrop Technologies. As part of the agreement, it will provide a team of critical solutions employees on-site to deliver world-class cleaning services tailored specifically for Winthrop Technologies data centre in Dublin.

The contract was secured following a competitive open tendering process. The company was awarded the contract due to its significant experience in providing cleaning and critical solutions to data centres around the world.

Its technicians undergo an extensive hiring and training process to ensure that they are correctly equipped with the expertise and responsiveness required to maintain operational security and uptime, the company stated.

Ireland managing director Ian Anderson, Managing Director said: "Partnering with Winthrop Technologies aligns perfectly with ABM's commitment to delivering excellence in facility management. We are excited to deliver our deep understanding of innovative and highly specialised cleaning practices for Winthrop Technologies at their site in Dublin. Data centres are an excellent fit for our business and we are excited to be continuing our strong growth in this space."

The company specialises in facility services and solutions including cleaning and security services in a wide range of commercial sectors.
