

Ecological transition: VINCI solutions presented at Pollutec

3 years ago

At the Pollutec trade fair, which was held in Lyon from 10 to 13 October 2023, VINCI presented environmental solutions for adjusting to climate change, intensifying the circular economy and preserving water and natural environments.

Discussions, round tables, addresses by speakers and presentations of solutions... a wide range of formats were used to showcase innovative solutions and services. Through examples of concrete implementations, VINCI's teams were able to reach out to visitors and explain how the Group is addressing the key challenges of the ecological transition.

Leonard, the VINCI Group's innovation and forecasting platform, which supports environmentally-motivated start-ups and innovation projects, also presented a range of solutions for adapting towns and cities to climate change as well as for work sites and waste management, in particular by harnessing the circular economy.
