

Mears Group named as one of the top ten big companies to work for in the UK

3 years ago

Mears Group's commitment to engaging with and supporting its workforce has been recognised as it has been named one of the top ten big companies to work for in the UK.

The specialist housing provider, which employs more than 5,400 people across the UK, was ranked as the eighth overall best big company to work for in the prestigious best companies' league table for 2023.

As part of its focus on social value, Mears encourages its employees to engage with the communities they work in with employees being given volunteering leave and encouraged to support different projects throughout the year.

Lucas Critchley, Chief Operating Officer, at Mears Group, said: "I am so pleased that Mears has once again been named as one of the best companies to work for in the UK. Ensuring our employees feel valued and empowered is extremely important to us."

"We have a real focus on creating a fair workplace which provides good employment opportunities across the regions we work in, and our progress into the top ten best companies really reflects this. We look forward to continuing this work and ensuring Mears continues to be a fantastic place to work"
