

ARCUS FM SECURES SFMI GOLD AWARD

2 years ago

Technology Led, People Driven' Facilities Management company Arcus FM has achieved an SFMi Gold Award for its demonstrable commitment to sustainability.

Arcus FM has received the SFMi Gold Award for its demonstrable commitment to sustainability.

Arcus FM has had a strategic focus on environment and sustainability for several years, not just in the business' own practices, but with their customer base. From electrifying their fleet and running internal campaigns to drive down business mileage, reducing waste and implementing circular economy principles, to deploying award-winning proprietary technology to uncover and reduce their customer's energy and carbon usage and impact.

The business has set its sights on being a true ESG (Environment, Social & Governance) leader in the Facilities Management sector – and having a transparent and robust sustainability strategy that drives meaningful action is a cornerstone of that approach.

The brand has publicly published its Pathway to Net Zero which you can download below, and produces an annual report to track against progress in this area – alongside its efforts in Social Value and Equality Diversity and Inclusion.

This commitment to sustainability, and the processes, systems and culture that underpin it, saw Arcus improve significantly across the ESG categories in their 2023 assessment and audit with the Acclaro Advisory. The net result of this being that Arcus achieved the Gold standard for SFMi sustainability, having maintained the silver standard for the two previous years.

The SFMi assesses its criteria and strengthens the standards year-on-year in line with sustainability and FM industry developments, but Arcus is already looking at where it can further strengthen its proposition in this year and ensure year on year progress.

Chris Green, CEO at Arcus FM said:

“We’re incredibly proud to have achieved the SFMi Gold Award, not just because it’s an ambition we’ve targeted for some time – but also because it provides confirmation that our plans and actions are delivering what our customers, communities and planet needs.”

Monima Harrison, HSQE Director at Arcus FM said:

“As an organisation, we are fully committed to sustainable development and we’re delighted to have obtained an SFMi Gold Award. We strive for a culture that goes beyond legal compliance, and aim to be a true leader in sustainability in the FM sector.

“The great thing about an assessment like this, is that not only does it allow us to pause and celebrate the work we’ve done to date, but supports us in prioritising and adding focus for the parts of the journey we’ve still got to travel.”
