

New wave of apprentices for Raven Delta Group

2 years ago

Raven Delta (RD) Group, which is comprised of EFT Consult, RDM Electrical & Mechanical Services, and DRS FM Services, has reinforced its commitment to bridging the skills gap and nurturing the future workforce in the construction and FM industries.

The group has recently enrolled of a diverse cohort of apprentices, ushering in a new era of talent development in the building services industry across the South Wales region.

The most recent apprenticeships offered include electrical, mechanical and building services engineering, with all five of its most recent apprentices starting with the company in September 2023. Two of the apprentices, Ellis Jones and Emre Saglam, have commenced a four-year electrical apprenticeship with the company. Both are pursuing a Level 2 Building Services Engineering course under the guidance of JTL Training.

Additionally, Cameron Hartnoll and Samuel Griffiths have joined as mechanical apprentices. Both Hartnoll and Griffiths have embarked on a four-year Level 3 Building Services Engineering Heating and Ventilation course facilitated by City & Guilds.

Luke Willett has also joined as a building services engineering apprentice. As a junior building services engineer, he will spend the classroom element of his apprenticeship at Bridgend College. Over the course of one year, he will undertake an BTEC Level 3 National Diploma in Construction and the Built Environment, followed by a two-year apprenticeship pursuing an HNC in Building Services Engineering. The group's commitment to supporting and nurturing talent extends beyond traditional apprenticeships. The company reported it is renowned for promoting ongoing professional development among its staff, enabling them to broaden their skill sets and stay at the forefront of industry knowledge.

CEO Dave Kieft said:

"As we welcome this new cohort of apprentices into the Raven Delta (RD) Group family, we reinforce our unwavering commitment to shaping the future of the construction and trade industries. These apprenticeships are not just about learning a trade; they are a gateway to a dynamic career filled with opportunities for growth and innovation. "At RD Group, we believe in investing in our people, not only through traditional apprenticeships but also by fostering continuous professional development. By doing so, we empower our team to not just meet industry standards but to exceed them, ensuring a bright and promising future for both our apprentices and the industries we serve."