

North wins Security Installer of the Year at the Security & Fire Excellence Awards

2 years ago

North has been honoured with the prestigious ‘Security Installer of the Year’ award at the Security & Fire Excellence Awards, recognising North’s exceptional contributions in CCTV and Control Room transformations.

The recognition follows North’s impressive track record and unique end-to-end approach to delivering transformative CCTV and Control Room projects for valued clients throughout the UK, including Hammersmith & Fulham Council, the Royal Borough of Kensington & Chelsea, the City of Edinburgh Council, and South Tyneside Council.

Now in their twenty-fourth year, the industry-leading independently verified Security & Fire Excellence Awards highlight the very best people, projects and processes that the Security and Fire sectors have to offer.

The award was presented at a ceremony in London on December 4th, where North’s CEO, David Crawford, expressed his delight and gratitude for the recognition,

“We are delighted to be named the Security Installer of the Year. This achievement is a testament to an extraordinary year for North, marked by our team’s unwavering commitment and expertise. We have worked in close partnership with our clients, establishing trusted strategic partnerships that have not only resulted in the successful delivery of innovative security solutions but serve to address their evolving needs.”

Crawford further highlighted North’s proactive engagement with technology partners, stating: “This award reflects our commitment to working closely with technology partners to support our customers in working smarter, safer, and more sustainably. It reinforces our dedication to excellence and positions us at the forefront of the security industry."
