

PTSG completes emergency clean-up operation for banks

2 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) has responded to an urgent call from ISS for cleaning services due to damage to number of high street banks caused by protestors.

Activists had sprayed graffiti and stuck posters to 29 branches of high street banks in an attempt to pressure them to stop mega-funding fossil fuel projects. Due to disruption, the affected branches had to close, requiring PTSG's specialist reactive retail cleaning team to respond promptly and attend each site.

Teams attended all sites, completing cleaning after hours to ensure all banks could open as usual at 8:30 the following morning. The cleaning services included paint, glue and debris removal to restore the branches to their normal level of cleanliness and immaculate presentation.

PTSG Building Access Specialists Ltd uses a range of cleaning techniques and access methods to clean building façades and bring them up to a first-class standard. This includes the necessary tools and equipment to remove graffiti from the majority of surfaces. PTSG's teams use the best graffiti removal gels and ghosting removal products available.