

FASET Announces Unchanged Membership Fees for 2024

2 years ago

FASET, the leading association in the height safety sector, proudly declares that there will be no increase in membership fees for the year 2024, marking the fourth consecutive year of frozen rates. This decision underscores FASET's commitment to delivering enhanced benefits without imposing an additional financial burden on its esteemed 60+ membership base.

Managing Director, Tony Seddon, expressed the association's dedication to supporting its members:

"I am pleased to confirm that FASET members will maintain the same membership rate as they did four years ago, now coupled with expanded benefits. Prioritising value for money is paramount for us, especially considering the financial challenges prevalent across the supply chain. We are delighted to continue offering more without an increase in costs."

Benefits of FASET Membership

Being a FASET member carries numerous advantages, foremost among them being the recognition that members commit to the exceptionally high standards set by the association.

FASET members often find increased opportunities, as many relevant contractors prefer to collaborate exclusively with businesses affiliated with the association. Additionally, members have the privilege of displaying the FASET logo on their premises, printed materials, and all communication channels, reinforcing their commitment to safety standards.

Support Services

In addition to the prestigious FASET recognition, members enjoy a variety of support services, some offered at reduced rates or entirely free of charge.

FASET provides tailored marketing solutions with specialist consultants, covering areas such as web design, online SEO, branding, and advertising. These bespoke marketing strategies contribute to the growth of businesses today and in the future.

Members also benefit from discounted legal support through a partnership with Pannone Corporate, covering solicitor support, contract and corporate documentation review, commercial lease assessments, litigation advice, and more.

Exclusive insurance facilities with highly competitive premiums and Lloyds of London Security, along with bespoke policy wording, are provided to all FASET members.

Additionally, members can benefit from a 25% discount on Top Service, the leading credit reference agency for the construction industry, aiding in the prevention and recovery of bad debts.

For those requiring credit referencing, FASET offers an exclusive 25% discount through their specialist construction industry partner. With competitive rates for the prevention and recovery of bad debts, this service proves invaluable to FASET members.

Negotiations with British Standards have resulted in FASET members being entitled to a 30% discount on all standards. Standards can be ordered in hard copy or PDF format, both available at the discounted rate through FASET.

FASET remains dedicated to supporting its members by providing exceptional value and ensuring that the benefits of affiliation continue to grow. For more information on FASET membership and its associated benefits, please visit www.faset.org.uk or contact enquiries@faset.org.uk
