

Fenwick shops with PTSG for quick delivery

2 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) has completed an urgent out-of-hours dry riser maintenance job in a matter of hours at Fenwick department store in Newcastle.

John James Fenwick founded Fenwick, an independent chain of department stores, in Newcastle in 1882. Today the chain consists of nine branches across England in London, Bracknell, Canterbury, Kingston upon Thames, Royal Tunbridge Wells and York. The stores offer a wide range of goods and services with a focus on premium and luxury products.

Upon completion of the dry riser maintenance project in Newcastle by engineers from PTSG Fire Solutions Ltd, Fenwick commented on PTSG's "very quick turn-around", with its team proving the test certificate for the store's dry risers within the same day of service.

PTSG Fire Solutions Ltd delivers a comprehensive portfolio of specialist services, with dry riser test and maintenance being just one aspect. As the largest of the Group's five divisions, its engineers offer fire prevention and suppression services, from the installation and maintenance of sprinklers and fire doors to fire and smoke damper inspection and testing, as well as a wide range of security systems.
