

Neutral Carbon Zone Celebrates Businesses Achieving Silver Certification Milestone

2 years ago

As legislative frameworks evolve and encompass more businesses, those already on the sustainability journey are better prepared. It's no longer a matter of compliance; it's a strategic move that positions businesses ahead of regulatory changes. By embracing sustainability now, businesses can navigate future complexities with ease.

Neutral Carbon Zone (NCZ) is passionate about integrating sustainability into the very fabric of businesses, to ensure their impact on this planet is a positive one. Sustainability and carbon management go beyond profitability and every aspect of a business should be scrutinised through the lenses of social responsibility, environmental impact, and commercial viability.

The NCZ certification levels provide businesses with a clear roadmap to make tangible progress and achieving Silver Certification is a significant milestone on this journey.

- Reaching Silver Certification, demonstrates all organisational emissions have undergone an independent assessment to ISO standards, covering scope 1-3 emissions.
- Which includes everything integral to the business—energy consumption, company vehicles, business travel, remote working policies and even the impact of suppliers.
- Understanding this carbon footprint, means strategically targeted carbon reduction strategies can be implemented, and then assessed year-on-year.

Last year saw a growing movement of businesses embracing this, and NCZ are proud to be supporting them. We're delighted to announce that all of these businesses recently achieved NCZ Silver Certification...

Some organisations have even taken this one step further, achieving their NCZ Silver Certification, but with Carbon Neutrality. Meaning they've also offset their currently unavoidable emissions to have an immediate impact on the environment.

Their journey doesn't end there though, the next step is NCZ Gold Certification and delivering carbon neutral services to their clients. Their commitment to sustainability is not just a business strategy; it's a forward-thinking approach that shapes their identity in a marketplace that increasingly values social and environmental responsibility.
