

Smart technology and bespoke solutions drive launch of Right FM

2 years ago

A specialist FM service provider has announced its official launch in the UK, with a dedicated team boasting a combined 40 years of experience in the industry.

The company stated it is poised to transform the way FM is approached by delivering sustainable solutions and significant cost savings for clients.

Under the leadership of Venesa Coodien, an accomplished managing director with over 25 years of experience, and finance and procurement director Stuart Robertson, Right FM is aiming to make waves in the FM industry. Ms Coodien and Mr Robertson's passion for innovation and delivering exceptional service has driven them to assemble a team of industry experts who share their vision for excellence.

Joining the company's senior team are operations manager Karl Wickens and non-executive director Clive Horobin. Each team member brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise, further bolstering the company's commitment to providing unrivalled FM services.

The company stated that it sets itself apart by leveraging smart technology and offering bespoke sustainable solutions tailored to each client's unique needs. By harnessing the power of smart technology, it can optimise facility operations, streamline processes, and maximise efficiency. This approach ensures that clients receive the highest level of service while minimising costs, leading to improved performance and customer satisfaction.

With a focus on exceptional service and sustainability, it stated that it is committed to implementing efficient and environmentally friendly practices and solutions. By integrating innovative technologies and adopting eco-conscious strategies, the company aims to reduce its clients' carbon footprint and contribute to a greener future while maintaining cost efficiency and effectiveness.

“We are excited to introduce Right FM to the market, offering a fresh and dynamic approach to facilities management,” said Ms Coodien. “Our team is passionate about delivering exceptional service and leveraging smart technology to provide our clients with sustainable solutions and cost savings. We look forward to partnering with businesses across the UK and beyond to revolutionise facilities management the Right way!”

Mr Robertson said: “In our relentless pursuit of excellence, our company has successfully achieved ISO9001 and ISO14001 accreditations, demonstrating our unwavering commitment to quality management and environmental sustainability. Rigorous adherence to these internationally recognised standards permeates every facet of our operations, from meticulous processes to a culture that values continuous improvement. Unlike other companies that may lag behind for years, we have seamlessly integrated ISO principles into our daily practices, fostering a dynamic environment where these standards are not merely complied with, but truly lived and breathed from the start. This commitment sets us apart, ensuring that our products and services consistently meet the highest standards while contributing to a greener, more sustainable future.”
