

JLL appoints Alistair Reid as head of Glasgow office

2 years ago

JLL has announced that Alistair Reid has been named as the new head of its Glasgow office. With over 17 years at JLL, Alistair plays a crucial role and is very active in the Glasgow office market.

As leader of the Glasgow office, Alistair will work closely with Cameron Stott, head of Scotland and Jason Hogg, who leads the Edinburgh office, to continue to provide seamless service to clients and leverage the collective experience and diverse perspectives of the team. Whilst taking on the new role, Alistair's primary focus will continue to be leading the Glasgow office agency team and servicing his clients.

Simon Malone, who has led Glasgow since 2021, will now focus on his role as head of building consultancy for Scotland.

Cameron Stott, Head of Scotland at JLL said, "Congratulations to Alistair on this appointment. JLL's commitment to the continued growth and development of our people has ensured that we have the right talent in place to grow our business.

"Alistair's deep understanding of the Glasgow and the wider West Scotland market will enable him to work closely with Jason and I, to provide the best service to our clients. I would also like to acknowledge the contributions of Simon; his commitment and leadership have been instrumental in the success of the Glasgow team and Scottish business."
