

PTSG delivers the goods to leading department store

2 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) has completed a project to deliver specialist fire solutions for a prominent British brand of high-end department stores.

The first of the stores was opened in 1864 in Oxford Street, London, and there are now 35 stores throughout Great Britain. The first of the brand's concession stores in Ireland opened in a Dublin Arnotts store in October 2016. In the same year, the first Australian concession store also opened.

On 1 January 2008, the Oxford Street store was awarded a Royal Warrant from Queen Elizabeth II as "suppliers of haberdashery and household goods".

PTSG Fire Solutions Ltd, via constituent company Trinity, carried out the fire alarm cause and effect testing at all department store buildings. A cause and effect test reviews all programmed inputs/outputs to ensure the system is working as designed. The test requires the customer to provide the original matrix that would have been produced as part of the fire alarm installation.

The work was delivered via main contractor CBRE, for which PTSG is a preferred supplier. PTSG's engineer was praised for his patient and professional approach throughout, helping to resolve some long-outstanding issues.
