1 year ago

Data centre specialist service provider Keysource has been appointed to the YPO framework for the provision of datacentre design and build solutions, maintenance and support and colocation services.

The framework is designed to unlock streamlined procurement and grants public sector organisations direct access to its comprehensive portfolio of solutions. This includes the supply of cloud services, data centre management and transformation solutions, including products and services which support the delivery and functionality of the requirement. The aim is to incorporate technologies that are currently available and those which will evolve through the lifetime of the framework.

As part of the framework, the company will be able to offer the full range of its services to these organisations from consultancy through to delivery and ongoing management.

Chief operating officer Jon Healy said: “We have many years of proven success in delivering data centre solutions to the public sector and our clients include HM Treasury and the Metropolitan Police. This framework is a great opportunity for us to continue to expand our portfolio in the area.”
