

Savills strengthens Global Occupier Services team with the appointment of Sam Gwinnell

1 year ago

International real estate advisor Savills has expanded its Global Occupier Services team with the appointment of Sam Gwinnell as an Associate Director in the firm's Margaret Street office in London.

Sam has over 10 years' experience advising multinational corporate real estate accounts and joins from Knight Frank where he was involved in global real estate strategies and transaction projects. At Savills, Sam will advise a range of UK and international corporate accounts on their real estate needs.

Mark Walsh, EMEA Head of Corporate Account Management, Global Occupier Services at Savills, says: "We are delighted to have Sam join our ever-growing team. His proactive approach and wealth of international account management experience is the perfect fit for us."
