

Atlas wins contract with EPAM

1 year ago

Atlas has been appointed to provide cleaning and support services to EPAM, the property asset management specialists. The contract covers 27 commercial sites, with 17 in London, and includes daily cleaning, window cleaning, specialist periodic cleaning and pest control.

EPAM says its intelligent property management model and personal approach ensures consistent delivery of quality and value, and it continuously looks to improve its service to exceed the expectations of both clients and building occupiers. Atlas will play a key role in supporting this drive, with the provision of high quality and people-focused cleaning services.

Ed Bolton, Managing Director of Atlas Cleaning, said: “We are delighted to be supporting EPAM across their property management portfolio. As well as ensuring the highest standards of cleanliness, we are already implementing new equipment and processes that boost productivity, add value, and deliver sustainability improvements.”

Matthew Potter, Director/ Head of Facilities Management at EPAM FM Services, commented: “We are very pleased to have appointed Atlas as our cleaning services partner. Consistent, high standards of cleaning and customer service are essential to the satisfaction of our clients, and we look forward to building a strong partnership with the Atlas team.”
