

LSH welcomes senior appointment to Major Projects & Cost Consultancy team

2 years ago

Daniel Ferrao has recently joined LSH's Major Projects & Cost Consultancy team. He assumes the role of Director in the London office with a national remit, where he will focus on enhancing Cost Management opportunities across the organisation.

Daniel brings a wealth of invaluable experience in Cost Management to LSH gained from his tenure at prominent firms such as Turner & Townsend, and most recently, Hollis where he set up and established the Cost Management division in the Netherlands.

Daniel's appointment aligns with LSH's ongoing commitment to strengthen its national Major Projects & Cost Consultancy services, in response to a robust pipeline of new instructions including notable clients such as City of London, Homes England, Hendy and Synnovis.

John Reyers, Head of Major Projects & Cost Consultancy, said: "Daniel's extensive experience, particularly in cost consultancy, enhances our team's ability to deliver precise and effective solutions. Daniel's expertise will play a pivotal role in driving cost efficiency and value for our clients across various sectors as we expand our services, and I am glad to have him on board. He will be key on our continued work in retrofitting and de-carbonising the built environment."

Commenting upon his appointment, Daniel Ferrao said: "I am thrilled to join LSH and eager to leverage my experience to further elevate our Cost Management capabilities. I look forward to collaborating closely with my colleagues to deliver exceptional outcomes for our client base."

LSH's Major Projects & Cost Consultancy division comprises a dedicated national team of professionals providing specialist project management and cost advice. With offices across the UK and Ireland, the team serves a diverse portfolio of projects spanning commercial, life sciences, residential, logistics, retail, the arts and public sector initiatives.
