

PTSG to work with Historic Environment Scotland

2 years ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\), via constituent company HCS, has been contracted to deliver specialist water treatment services for Historic Environment Scotland.

Historic Environment Scotland is an executive non-departmental public body responsible for investigating, caring for and promoting Scotland's historic environment. Among other duties, Historic Environment Scotland maintains more than 300 properties of national importance including Edinburgh Castle, Skara Brae and Fort George.

The responsibilities of HES were formerly split between Historic Scotland, a government agency responsible for properties of national importance, and the Royal Commission on the Ancient and Historical Monuments of Scotland (RCAHMS), which collected and managed records about Scotland's historic environment. Under the terms of a Bill of the Scottish Parliament published on 3 March 2014, the pair were dissolved and their functions transferred to Historic Environment Scotland, on 1 October 2015.

In this contract, the team from HCS will deliver a variety of water treatment services. Through its comprehensive provision of water hygiene, water treatment and remedial services, PTSG is a trusted partner for clients in all industry sectors. Its services ensure the safe management of water systems, with protection from Legionella and compliance with the necessary regulations. Its focus is on reliability and sustainability and saving companies time and money.
