Bidvest Noonan, a provider of FM services, including cleaning and security across the UK and Ireland, has launched its purpose: To proudly create safer and healthier communities today, for tomorrow.

The launch of Bidvest Noonan's purpose follows a collaborative effort involving people from across the business. It reflects Bidvest Noonan's ongoing commitment to all the communities it serves. The company's employees play a critical role in many sectors, from helping to improve patient outcomes in hospitals to enhancing customer experiences in shopping centres and ensuring high standards in food and medicine production environments.

"This purpose has always been at the heart of everything we do. Whether we are supporting our customers and colleagues or contributing to the broader well-being of our communities, our goal is to make a meaningful difference," said Julie Mernagh, Chief People & Culture Officer, Bidvest Noonan.

"For nearly 50 years, our people have played a vital role in the communities and towns where we live and work" added Declan Doyle, Chief Executive Officer, Bidvest Noonan. "By remaining focussed on our purpose, we will continue to deliver positive change for our customers and communities for many years to come."

In recent weeks, Bidvest Noonan recognised the outstanding contribution of its front-line colleagues in bringing its purpose to life every day. Several Bidvest Noonan team members were awarded prizes such as trips to the Olympic games in Paris. For more information about Bidvest Noonan's purpose, visit:
