

Gareth David Appointed to Lead IG Group's New Cleaning and Hygiene Supplies Division.

1 year ago

IG Group is pleased to announce the appointment of Gareth David as the head of its newly formed division, IG Cleaning and Hygiene Supplies.

This strategic move highlights IG Group's commitment to sustaining the growth and momentum of recent years and reflects the company's ambitious plans for expansion in this key sector.

Gareth David brings with him a wealth of experience, having served as the UK Managing Director for SYR, where he developed a deep expertise in the cleaning and hygiene industry. His extensive knowledge, coupled with a strong dedication to sustainability, will be invaluable assets as he steps into his new role at IG Group.

In his new position, Gareth's role is to build on IG Group's existing business, develop relationships with new suppliers, expanding new ranges, and collaborating closely with customers to rapidly develop this division of IG.

Expressing his enthusiasm for the new role, Gareth said, "I'm very excited at the prospect of growing IG's presence in the Cleaning and Hygiene sector. They've got a very strong reputation, great service and a wide portfolio of products. All I can see is opportunities and I am really looking forward to working with the IG team and make it happen."

Stephen Hoey, CEO of IG Group, added, "Gareth is a leading figure in the industry with a well-earned reputation, and I am really pleased he has decided to join our business. Gareth will make a great contribution to the continued success of our company.”
