

IWFM Impact Awards 2024: Finalists announced

1 year ago

IWFM is delighted to announce the 2024 IWFM Impact Awards finalists.

IWFM said: “Well done to all the individuals, teams and projects that are in contention across the 19 categories for this year’s Awards. Our esteemed panel of judges had a tough job deliberating the entries, which touched upon many of our sector’s key trends; they were hugely encouraged by the incredible number of submissions this year and the quality of the work, making this year’s finalists even more impressive.

“A huge thank you to everyone that entered this year’s Awards. We look forward to welcoming you for a night to remember in October, where alongside opportunities to network, socialise and celebrate the finalists and winners, we will also disclose the recipients of the new Deborah Rowland Scholarship.”

Table bookings are now open for the Awards’ entrants, with the ceremony taking place on 14 October 2024 at JW Marriott Grosvenor House London. Please note there are a limited number of Premium tables and tables of 12 available for entrants, so you will need to book early before they sell out.

If you are a non-entrant, single ticket bookings are now available. If you are interested in booking more than a single ticket to attend the Awards, we have a limited number of supporter packages available which include a table of ten. Email awards@iwfm.org.uk for further information.
