

Pareto FM Named Company of the Year at WeAreTheCity Awards 2024

1 year ago

Pareto has announced that they've been awarded the prestigious "Company of the Year" at the 2024 WeAreTheCity Awards.

A recognition that underscores their commitment to fostering gender diversity and supporting women's advancement in the facilities management industry.

At Pareto, diversity and inclusion drive their culture and practices. They've introduced a variety of initiatives aimed at supporting women's professional growth and creating an inclusive workplace. This award highlights their efforts to break down barriers and promote a more equitable industry.

Andrew Hulbert, Pareto Founder and Vice Chair, expressed his pride in the achievement: "Winning the Company of the Year award reflects our dedication to championing gender diversity and empowering women in the facilities management sector. We are honoured to be recognised by WeAreTheCity for our efforts to build a more inclusive industry."

Emma Wilson, Pareto Social Impact Director, added: "In an industry where women have historically been underrepresented, we are proud to lead by example. Our commitment to supporting women's careers is evident in our policies, culture, and everyday practices. This award reinforces our mission to drive positive change within the facilities management sector."

This recognition celebrates Pareto's past achievements and inspires them to continue creating opportunities for women in this industry. They thank WeAreTheCity for this incredible honour and look forward to advancing their efforts towards a more diverse and inclusive future.

For more information about Pareto's initiatives and the award contact them today