

PTSG maintains buildings for information management giant

12 months ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) has been delivering building maintenance services for a new client that provides records management, information destruction and data back-up and recovery services.

The company, which was founded in the USA in 1951, opened its first underground vaults the same year, providing microfilm copies of records for its first customer. In 1978, the company opened its first above-ground records-storage facility. Its breakthrough came in the mid-1980s, when it convinced one of its customers to move all its paper records out of Manhattan to an above-ground facility, a former strip mall in Port Ewen, New York. This was the first time that bar codes were used by a records management company to allow real time access to shipped boxes and the documents inside.

Today, the company has a global presence, with locations in North and South America, countries in Europe, Africa, the Middle East, Asia, Australia and New Zealand.

In this contract, PTSG Building Maintenance Specialists Ltd has been providing a range of maintenance services to ensure the client's buildings remain in an excellent state of repair all round. This could include cladding removal or replacement, masonry, decoration, coatings and roof maintenance.

PTSG's specialists are qualified and equipped to carry out the full spectrum of building repair, maintenance and cleaning work for customers in all industry sectors. They are IRATA-trained in the use of industrial rope equipment, as well as mobile elevating work platforms (MEWPs) and scaffolding, enabling to reach every square inch of any building.
